4.	Safeguard Integrity in financial reporting
4.1	Require the chief executive officer (or equivalent) and the chief financial officer (or equivalent) to state in writing to the board that the company's financial reports present a true and fair view, in all material respects, of the company's financial condition and operational results and are in accordance with relevant accounting standards.	The Board requires the Managing Director to make such a statement of the relevant time. For example, this was part of the Due Diligence process. The Company does not have a Chief Financial Officer, however the Company Secretary performs this task and reports directly to the Managing Director.
4.2	The board should establish an audit committee.	The Board did not believe it was necessary to establish the committee prior to listing, as the Due Diligence committee undertook the audit committee's responsibilities prior to listing. The Board has undertaken to establish an audit committee within one month of listing. The Company has a formal Audit Committee Charter, which is included in the Companies Corporate Governance Policy which is available on the Companies web site.
4.3	Structure the audit committee so that it consists of: (a) only non-executive directors; (b) a majority of independent directors; (c) an independent chairperson, who is not chairperson of the board; and (d) at least three members.	The proposed structure of the audit committee is included in the Companies Corporate Governance Policy, which states that: Membership and composition: The Board shall appoint the members of the Committee and review the composition of the Committee at least annually. The Committee will comprise: (a) at least three members; (b) a majority of non-executive directors whom are independent; (c) an independent chairman appointed by the Board and who is not the Chairman of the Board; and
